and perhaps one or two cities in the South West during the first part of December.

4. Long discussions have been held with the Chief, Personnel Procurement and his staff on the matter of facilitating and intensifying recruitment of Junior Officer Training candidates. It is noted again that for some months a number of specialized recruiters have been transferred to clerical recruitment with the result that recruiters for the JOT Program have been distributed as follows:

Under these circumstances it becomes evident that certain problems remain to be solved:

- a. Since the University Consultant Contact is to refer recommendations to recruiters, how can he make this referral to a recruiter and have it acted on in a reasonable time if he is located between the Allegheny and the Rocky Mountains?
- The list of Consultant Contacts now includes representatives of institutions located in widely dispersed areas. test individuals whom they recommend within a reasonable time will require careful coordination between representatives of Personnel Procurement, A&E Staff, and the Chief of this Division and may be prohibitively expensive. While no solution to these questions has as yet been reached, all concerned are aware of the problem and are working collectively to solve them.
- c. It is noted that since the ceiling on personnel has been imposed, more requests for JQT's have been received from the various offices of the Agency than can be filled.
